Van Damme Wins Partial Victory In Bridge Suit

COURT EDICT RULES FERRY OWNER HOLDS PRIOR RIGHT

MARTINEZ, March 28.—Charles Van Damme won a partial victory in the Superior Court here today in his suit against the board of supervisors, asking that a writ of mandamus be issued to compel the supervisors to issue him a franchise to build a bridge from Richmond to Point San Quentin, when Superior Judge A. H. McKenzie rendered a decision to the effect that Van Damme should be given the first right to a franchise.

First Judge McKenzie overruled the demurrers that had been filed by the supervisors, after which most of the day was taken up in arguments by attorneys on both sides of the case.

Under the final decision of the court, the supervisors must reopen the proceedings by which they indicated they would give a franchise to Roy O. Long, and determine the best points on both sides of the bay for the terminals of a bridge, then determine the type of the bridge, and then give Van Damme the first right to build such a bridge.

In rendering its decision the court stated it knew of no law which permitted a board of supervisors to destroy the property of a person, at the same time deny the party the right to protect it, and give the rights to a private individual.

The court held there was no question of the value of the ferry. (Continued on Page Eight)

The CORE

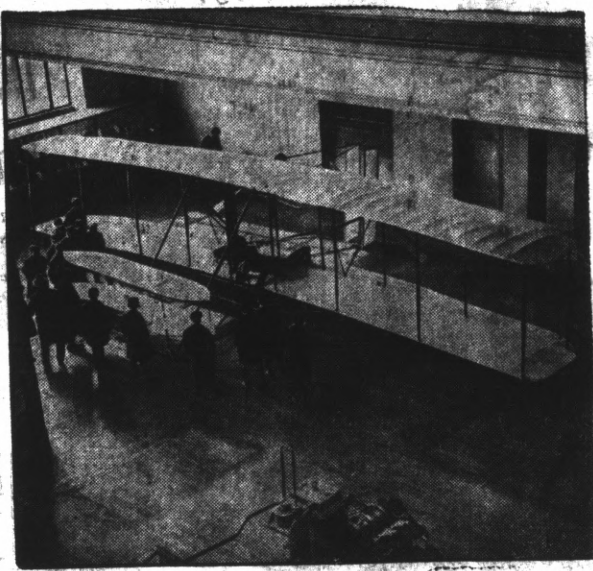

When spring brings out the wild flowers and the roadside greases every man, woman, and child becomes a lover a nature, but so many of these impassioned lovers must pluck the object of their love. They are not content to look upon the new-found beauty but must jealously appropriate it to themselves. With them flowers grow to be picked.

All outdoors has adorned itself with floral raiment of gorgeous hue. The woods, fields, lanes, hills and valleys are ablaze with color and beauty. Everywhere the little wildflowers rear their innocent heads, the green shrubs line the roadsides and, bursting buds reveal beautiful secrets. Newspapers and nature lovers throughout the land find it necessary to remind a thoughtless public of the consequences of this vandalism. Vandalism it is, for many persons are not content with the flower, they must take the stem and the root as well. Eventually, of course, this means extermination of the wildflower. That point has been reached in some instances.

About ninety-nine per cent of the world's ill (99 per cent of which are more or less imaginary) have been attributed to the automobile, but there is at least one change wrought by the popular use of the "gasoline buggy." That is, some of the profit from the automobile to the owner, dealer and manufacturer is at the expense of the shoe man.

The more automobiles in use and the more automobiles are (Continued on Page Eight)

First Plane In England

ORVILLE WRIGHT has allowed the first successful Wright airplane to be taken to the Science Museum in London, where it is shown. Unsatisfied with attitude of Smithsonian toward invention, he won't say whether it's ever to come back.

LOW FARES WILL AID KEY SYSTEM, SAYS ENGINEER

A. G. Mott, chief engineer for the railroad commission, yesterday flatly told the Key System to reduce its fares to a five-cent basis. Mott, testifying at the hearing in San Francisco where the transit company hopes to win a basic rate of 10 cents, declared that a reduction would raise the annual revenue of the Key System to approximately $440,000.

"Raise your rate," he said, "and the people will walk. If you reduce it, the people will ride."

He pointed out that a reduction in fares by the Southern Pacific brought a 70 per cent increase in business.

Local Fuel Co. Incorporates

A permit granted by the state corporation commissioner for the Pacific Feed & Fuel company to issue 120 shares of capital stock at 100 per share, has been subscribed to by members of the firm.

The firm has been operated under the above name for the past 15 years by John Eklund at the corner of Sixteenth street and Nevin avenue. Eklund is president of the corporation, while Johanna is secretary. C. D. Horner, local attorney, is on the board of directors with the two Eklunds.

Speeders Fined In Local Justice Court

C. Cameron, Sacramento, paid a fine of $15 when arraigned before Judge Alstrom yesterday on a charge of speeding at a rate of 50 miles an hour.

H. D. Fish, Oakland, received a fine of $10 for speeding 48 miles an hour.

RICH DAIRY LAND DOOMED BY NEW FLOOD

MARYSVILLE, March 28.—According to Bert E. Meek, chief of the state division of public works and Senator J. M. Inman, who have taken personal charge of the break in the Feather river, 20 miles below here, the town of Nicholas and nearly 100,000 acres of rich farm and dairy country surrounding the town are virtually doomed.

This was the word Meek sent over an emergency telephone line to the top of the levee near the Nicholas couleau today, where he and Senator Inman with nearly 200 volunteers are fighting a desperate, but hopeless battle to stave off overwhelming disaster.

All effort to bring up United States government dredges to clear away flood-tossed sandbanks that are slanting the river straight at the great home region have failed, Meek reported.

Men are risking their lives to save the country below the break. Meek said, fighting heroically to accomplish what had been hoped would be done by the dredges. Several attempts have been made to bring up the giant diggers but the current of the raging waters is too swift.

Twenty per cent of the levee has been demolished already, Meek said, and the remainder of the structure is being slowly burst apart by the river which has shifted to a new course diagonally across its old bed. At the end of a half-mile sweep the full force of the flood swirls in a great eddy that is remorselessly carrying the last protection that keeps the river at this point from pouring across a new district below. Nicholas is directly in the path of the flood.

Rolph Arrives In Washington For Span Fight

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Mayor James Rolph, Jr. of San Francisco and Mat. Sullivan, a former chief justice arrived here today to take up the fight for the Rincon Hill Bay Bridge bill before the state Senate commerce committee hearing tomorrow.

Rolph and Sullivan optimistically plunged into the work of preparation. Sullivan went immediately to Senator Hiram W. Johnson's office accompanied by Attorney J. P. Doran, one of his legal proteges in California.

Senator Johnson will fire the opening gun in the fight for the bridge, it was decided. Judge Sullivan will say the last word. Thus the two who have been associated in legal work for many years will begin and end what is perhaps the biggest legal battle in which San Francisco has ever engaged.

Quake Rescue Work By Italian Soldiers

ROME, March 28.—With seven bodies recovered, soldiers were engaged in rescue work in Udine Province, where a severe earthquake did extensive damage yesterday. The injured are estimated from thirty to forty.

MILK TEST IS MADE

Dr. H. E. Ball, state market milk specialist, was engaged in testing the city milk yesterday at the office of the health department. It was his opinion that the local test would rate high.

"Dr." Miller Is Arrested In Vancouver

"Dr." Orlando Miller, self-styled psychologist and promoter of the dream film company in San Francisco, who is widely known in Richmond where he conducted a series of lectures, has been arrested at Vancouver, B. C., where authorities will seek an order calling for his deportation as an undesirable.

It is understood that he will be charged with using the mails to defraud, following his return to this country. A federal warrant was issued for Miller in connection with the Reliance Film Corporation.

Miller claims his difficulties, dating a spectacular career in this country and in England are due to the American Medical Association, which he charges with "constantly persecuting me because of my theories on health."

NEW OFFICERS STEGE CHURCH

Officers for the coming year were elected last night at the annual dinner of St. George's Presbyterian church. Reports from the various organizations of the church showed that a considerable amount remains in the treasury after the year's work.

Those elected were: Elders, J. Creely and Nicholas Omer for three years; trustees, D. A. Dodge, S. A. Carlson, Matthew Weir, John Creely, E. F. Inman, Walter Johnson and Harold Mountain.

Mrs. V. E. Skiles was chosen choir director, Mrs. A. Thompson superintendent and Mrs. Pearl Joiner assistant superintendent of the Junior Christian Endeavor society. V. E. Skiles was elected advisor of the Senior Intermediate Christian Endeavor society.

Officers of the Sunday school are: D. A. Dodge, secretary; Evelyn Bengtson, assistant secretary; Marjory Bengtson, treasurer; Mrs. H. K. Sanborn, home department superintendent; Mrs. Harold Mountain superintendent of the cradle roll department; Miss Evelyn Bengtson, pianist of the Sunday school and Matthew Weir, treasurer of the manse fund.

The business meeting was preceded by a dinner served by the ladies of the church.

Senate Passes Flood Control

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Smashing all legislative records for speed the Senate today passed the compromise Mississippi flood control bill. The vote was 60 to 0.

The debate on this monster project, the control of the Father of Waters and ultimately all its tributaries, lasted by a scant two hours. As one of the major problems confronting this congress it provides for $325,000,000 to be spent on the main water courses of the Mississippi from Cairo to the gulf. The total cost however when tributary flood control is accomplished will run upward of a billion dollars.

While there was no dissenting vote, Senator King, Democrat of Utah, announced that he was paired with Senator Walsh of Montana.

"This project must cost a billion dollars," said KING, explaining that the bill in his opinion was inadequate and needed further consideration. "If permitted to vote, I would have voted no."

TWO INJURED AS N. P. FERRY CRASHES PIER

Two persons were injured, many passengers shocked and damaged sustained by ferry ship No. 2, San Francisco, when the Northwestern Pacific Ferry Canada was swept into the ferry terminal by a heavy flood tide. The south side of the ship was badly damaged and about thirty pilings were cracked on the slip.

A. J. Hall, Seattle sustained a sprained ankle and injuries to his back, while Mrs. P. B. Chambers, San Francisco, received scratches and bruises.

Further damage was prevented when Captain Andrew Polson reversed the engine when the boat struck, averting a disaster.

The inquiry will be made by a board of inquiry made up of Northwestern Pacific officials. Captain Polson can offer no explanation except that the tide swung the ship's bow into the slip.

Dublin Fliers Prepare For Atlantic Hop

BALDONNEL, Airfield, Dublin, March 28.—Encouraging weather reports tonight prompted the three German airmen to retire early with all plans completed for the hop of the monoplane Bremen for America tomorrow morning at 5 o'clock.

Captain Herman Koehl, leader of the expedition stated that he was certain to start at 5 o'clock, if tonight's weather forecast proved to be correct.

A strong wind from the west prevented the start of the flight this morning. Although the antagonistic easterly winds prevailed all day, the forecast for tomorrow indicated a shift which would put the wind on the ship's tail and add its progress over the Atlantic to New York.

Permit Issued For $4,000 Home

Permits issued by Building Inspector A. J. Hurley yesterday as follows: C. M. Hinds, erect cottage and garage in Thirty-second street, between Garvin and Clinton, cost $4000; Martin Bosick, alter basement for garage on Clinton street, between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth street, cost $150; Richmond Syndicate, erect partition in building in Tenth street, between Macdonald and Nevin, cost $25; Hubert Giannini, erect garage on Sixth street, between Chanslor and Bisell, cost $250; Metals Recovery company, erect galvanized iron shop in Gularis street between York and Castro, cost $500, builder Hubert & Oman.

Fliers On First Hop Of Pole Flight

ST. PAUL, Minn., Bernat Balchen and Floyd Bennett, who will accompany the south pole expedition of Commander Richard E. Byrd arrived here late today in their Ford monoplane from Detroit. The two fliers will spend the night here, they announced, and take off tomorrow morning for Winnipeg.

MRS. MILLER RECOVERING

Mrs. Miller, 521 Barrett street, who has been ill for the past two weeks, is improving rapidly. Dr. Ginn is in attendance.

DETAILS OF PURCHASE BY PROCTOR AND GAMBLE BARED

Rumors are current that H. C. Cutting and the Point Richmond Land and Canal company are preparing to bring suit against Proctor and Gamble to have the deed of grant set aside, and asking that the land revert to its original owners, holding that the purchasers have failed to keep their agreement by which it was stipulated a factory was to be erected within a certain time.

When A. E. Anderson, representing Proctor and Gamble took an option to purchase the 50 acres of land in 1921, which extends from Seventh street on the east and Third street on the west, along Cutting boulevard and south to the water front, it is understood an agreement was entered into by which Anderson agreed that a factory should be erected in a given time, and the property bulkheaded for shipping.

Just before the deed was given and the money paid the Pt. Richmond Land and Canal Company, report has it that the Proctor and Gamble interests asked for a release of the time limit agreement, and it is stated some sort of a release was given, but by whom. (Continued on Page 5)

DISTRICTS FOR SINGLE HOMES

Richmond has outgrown its present zone system to such an extent, that the general plan will have to be revised, and much of the work will be up to the city planning commission.

An extended meeting of the commission was held yesterday afternoon, when the matter of single residence districts, and multiple residence districts was taken up and discussed at great length. It is likely a recommendation will be made to the council next Monday night for new district lines, so that apartment houses cannot be erected in single residence districts.

The commission is also working on the map of the city, showing the main arterial highways. This will be brought up to date so that all of the proposed new streets in the harbor district will be shown.

Masons Attend Play In Oakland

"The Spirit of Hiram" was exemplified at the Scottish Rites Temple in Oakland last evening, and the big auditorium was packed. There were gorgeous settings in the play, and most beautiful costumes.

The members of McKinley lodge of Masons of this city were the invited guests of the evening.

RICHMOND VISITOR

Mrs. Bert Stuart of Los Angeles, the former Miss Marie McNell of this city, is visiting her mother, Mrs. M. McNeil and her sister, Mrs. H. J. Davis of 717 Elm Street. She will spend the remainder of the week in Richmond and will be glad to see her former friends.

OAKLAND SPEEDER FINED

Lawrence Holt, Oakland, received a fine of $25 when arraigned before Police Judge Odell yesterday on a charge of speeding.

DEATH TAKES JOHN WRIGHT

John W. Wright, 50, passed away at the home of his sister, Mrs. Ollie-Cooper of 556 Sixth street last night. The remains have been received by the Wilson and Kautzer chapel and arrangements for cremation are pending.

Wright was a native of California, resided in San Francisco and vicinity until coming to Richmond six months ago. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Frances Wright of 663 Sixth street; two daughters, Mrs. Hynah Ollinger and Miss Lella Wright of San Francisco; three sisters, Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. May E. Wallin of 663 Sixth street and Mrs. W. R. Hart of Susanville and one brother, M. E. Wright at Johnsonville, California.

BERKELEY WOMAN HERE

Mrs. J. R. Sherburne of Oakland was in guest yesterday of Mrs. G. E. Milnes at 415 Thirteenth street.

FEW FACTS—HASTY CONCLUSIONS

Young Hickman was a model Sunday School boy. He committed a brutal crime. Therefore all model Sunday School boys should be watched.

How often has such a line of reasoning been followed in the last few days. How often one may observe the same type reasoning innumerable in other connections. There is the old fallacy, still persisted in and regarded by some as a truism that preachers' sons as a rule go wrong. The fact that investigation has shown just the contrary, that preachers' sons as a rule give a better account of themselves than many other sons, still has not exploded the traditional idea, an idea that was gained simply by the observance of a few isolated cases that stood out prominently because they were isolated.

Then there is the familiar contention that a good record in school has no relation with a good record in later life. There is, of course no guarantee that success in school means success in the world. But in general it has been shown by investigation of school and college records that the chances favor the youth who stands high in scholarship.

Young Hickman did not go wrong because of his Sunday School or his public school records. He went wrong in spite of both.—Kansas City Times.

AN OLD MAN'S VICTORY

Trader Horn, more than 70 years old, is a shining example of success late in life. A few months ago, he was a pack peddler, selling pots, pans and wire griddles in South Africa.

A novelist became interested in him, and got him to write his experiences.

His book was a success from the start. Trader Horn attained fame and riches almost overnight.

Not everybody has had such an adventurous career as this aging man in the course of his life.

His way led him among friendly cannibals, on elephant hunts and into contact with strange people of the jungles.

The average city man seldom breaks away from the routine of office, home, and movie theater.

But for all that, the experience of the latter may well be equally as thrilling as that of Trader Horn.

To describe life, it is necessary, however, to know life.

That is the secret of Trader Horn's rise from obscurity.

The tomb of an ancient king in Ur was strewn with the bodies of musicians. This does prove undoubtedly and conclusively that the saxophone is not a modern invention.—New York Sun.

The soviet government is "merciless with insurgents." Thus the perfect state speed its object. Violence for virtue is its method of progression.—New York Sun.

VIGOROUS HEALTH

THE TIME TO SLEEP
The time to sleep is when you are sleepy. "Of course," you say, but—"how many people do it?" is what I ask. All too often when a person is sleepy instead of going to sleep he will fight off the inclination or take a cup of coffee or something even stronger to "wake up."

Also, many people do not give themselves a chance to become sleepy until they are completely played out, because the continually eat and drink stimulating foods and beverages and constantly seek stimulating amusements.

However, there are people who appreciate the value of sleep and would be glad to get it, but pressing duties force them to go along with the physiological minimum. These people want to know how to get the most out of their hours of sleep, and one of the points that need to be considered is the time of day best suited to sleep. It goes without saying that the night is better than the daytime, for it is the natural time to sleep, as the stimulation of the daylight and sunlight are absent and the environment is more quiet. As for the time of night to sleep, the old adage, "early to bed and early to rise," is a good one to follow, for that is the plan adhered to by the sun, and if we do likewise we will have more hours of sleep in the quiet dark.

I am very constipated, fifty pounds overweight, and have auto-intoxication. Will it be all right to start a complete fast on orange juice followed by the milk and fruit diet? Will this elimination process create a strong healing crisis, and if so, will it be too strong for my weak heart?

DAILY READER

The complete fast does not include orange juice. However, an orange juice diet should be sufficient in such a case as you to describe, if continued for up to ten days. Whether or not a healing crisis will occur will depend upon your individual characteristics. Some have them and some do not. However, there is no reason to fear them on account of your heart, even if it is actually weak, which is doubtful though it may be affected with fatty degeneration. Owing to the excess fat it would possibly be better to use a largely raw fruit and vegetable diet rather than the milk diet after the orange diet. If you can secure personal supervision it would be advisable.

THE BODY BEAUTIFUL

I would like to see what would happen if every one were suddenly stripped of his clothes. Think of all the "skeletons" both actual and figuratively speaking, that would be brought out of the clothes closet. It would immediately be discovered that there are other reasons for wearing clothing besides modesty and warmth. The body beautiful is such a rare object that it is at quite a premium. The prizes in beauty contests are often quite large, and some of the salaries paid to "Follies" stars are by no means small. All women desire to be beautiful and all men would like to be handsome, yet they never make a careful inspection of themselves to see where they lack and what can be done about it. If their faces are presentable, they make up for the rest with clothing. The body, when normal, is really a beautiful thing, and is worthy of having considerable time and attention put upon it. Learn how to live and have a beautiful body that you will be proud to exhibit.

Could you recommend some electrical apparatus for falling hair? I have tried everything but this without results.—ROBERT S.

It depends upon the cause of your falling hair whether electrical appliances would be the best. In some cases ultra-violet radiations are indicated and in others the infra-red. Possibly you have not tried everything, although you may have tried everything of which you know.

I don't believe I can tell you how I keep fit, because I don't. I get up about 8, eat three meals, of about the same amount each, and two minor bites between, one in the middle of the morning and one the last thing at night. My principal rule of diet is to eat a good deal of red meat and fruit and green vegetables. I devote nine hours to sleep and sleep about seven.

For recreation and amusement I like chiefly looking at things, visit to most of the art exhibits, go to galleries and notice trees and sunsets and things when I am walking and in the movies. I am fond of fishing and river skating (of which I get very little) and sketching. I also regularly attend the symphony concerts.

My exercise is chiefly walking about two miles a day. Also always some stretching of an improved daily-dozen sort. I haven't any photograph of I like.

WHY I BLUSHED

Having the night before gone out to get a deck of cards for some guests to play whist at my house, I overstayed my time and when I returned the guest was gone. Naturally, I forgot to remove the cards from my pocket. The next night in church I removed my overcoat and the cards fell out on the floor. Try and imagine how I felt.—Lawrence Owens.

Then the two started swirling and swirling. "A regular tail spin," Lindy shouted.

And almost before the words were out of his mouth, they were whirling over a big dark table, like the entrance to a tunnel.

"Watch out," Lindy shouted.

But he might just as well have shouted to the wind, for all Twinkle could help herself.

She found herself being sucked down, down into the black tunnel.

Affairs of the Heart and Your Marriage Problems

Patricia Lee

Patricia Lee answers questions relating to problems of married life. Names and address should be added to letters as a mark of good faith but will not be published. Readers who desire private answers should inclose a stamped self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin to cover cost of typing, etc. Because of space limitations it is not possible to print answers to all letters received, and readers who wish an early reply should take advantage of this special service. On account of the large quantity of mail coming to this department, about ten days should be allowed for a reply. Write to Patricia Lee, care of this paper.

Dear Patricia Lee:

I have been married almost six years and have two lovely children. During the past two years my husband's unfaithfulness and cruelty drove me to break up our home. Now he wants me to go back to him, but the woman who caused all our trouble sent him a valentine, which he was honest enough to show me. Now Miss Lee, while I know there is absolutely no harm in a postcard, it looks to me as if she was very persistent, and I am that later on she might get a little bolder and my husband would not be able to stand the temptation. Should I go to this woman and tell her that she will have to stop writing to my husband, or should I go to her husband? I think the quiet way is always best.

Forgiveness can't be a half-hearted affair. If you say you will forget and start life over—and I think it is very wise of you then never again refer to this unfortunate incident. To forgive and yet wait suspiciously for the next mistake is not the right spirit. I am sure your husband is determined to do his best from now on. Help him by putting away memory of this as far as possible from your mind. I think the only thing to do with the woman in the case is to ask your husband to give you any letter he gets. You can return it unopened. Tell her that your husband does not care to keep up the correspondence and that any further letters will be turned over to her husband. Then devote your life to making your home the happiest in the world.

POWDER MY BACK NOVEL BY ARLINE DE HAAS

Copyright 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
"POWDER MY BACK," starring Irene Rich, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Adelle Dayton, famous musical actress, while starring in a show called "Powder My Back," has had photographs taken of her in various poses, and has been a publicity stunt in America. The show later opens on Broadway and the pictures appear in the newspapers. Maimie Gordon, Adelle's sister-in-law, sees the pictures and is horrified. She writes Adelle, inviting the actress to visit her, with the idea of leading her to a "better life." The idea amuses Adelle, and she decides to accept the invitation. Meantime, in Iowa—

"Look, Maimie!" Mrs. Gordon pointed an accusing finger across the street, while the eyes of each member of the group followed, as though irresistibly drawn by some fascination. Maimie stared at the rest.

There taking form on the board as each sheet was slapped on by the bill poster's brush was the famous back of Adelle Dayton with a gown using the long-handled puff sprinkled from a tin of Silverglow talcum in his hand. Certainly no one would have known that the back belonged to Adelle, but there, quite unashamed of themselves, were great red letters proclaiming that this was none other than

"Well, I told Adelle that I was shocked at her conduct!"
"As I should think any proper person would be," a woman broke in.

"So I told Adelle," Maimie continued quickly, "that I thought it would be a good thing for her to come out here and get some of our pure western air and give up this terrible, vicious life she must be leading!"

"And quite right," interrupted another.
"I—I thought that if Adelle once came out here and lived some regular home life she might not care to go back to the stage," Maimie stated, producing her trump card.

"Now that might be true," Maimie Gordon agreed. "I remember what a sweet little girl Adelle used to be. Perhaps we might interest her to such an extent out here that she would stay. We have the Literary Society, you know, and she might be able to handle the library books—or something like that."

"You know we'd all help you—for your own sake, Maimie," one of the women patted Maimie's hand reassuringly. "Suppose we discuss the matter at the meeting tomorrow, and then we can decide what to do."

"Yes, I think that would be a splendid idea," Maimie agreed hopefully. "We could find out what everyone thinks, and then—"

"Yes, indeed," Maimie Gordon nodded.
"Well, I must be running along home. I have to get something for dinner on the way," one of the women suggested.

"And I have to go, too. We'll see you all tomorrow!"
The four women started down the street, two by two.

"Just think of it!" exclaimed one to another sotto voce, "having that terrible woman on our hands. I do think Maimie might have had some feeling for her own flesh and blood, and you know what the Bible says about blood being thicker than water."

"That's all very well, but I've got a son growing up, and I don't want him to have to associate with such women."

"Well, I have two daughters—but perhaps we won't have to have them meet her. Remember my dear, she's forty, it's a day."

"Oh, she can't be that old—why, we went to school with her—"

"I know, but she was always grades ahead of us don't you remember?"
"Yes, I guess she was—but—just the same."

"But just the same, women of her type," the woman turned sharply to those behind her, "have ways of keeping young. They never raise any children—they haven't any cares or anything. Certainly, they can keep young that way. It makes a lot of difference when you scrub your fingers to the bone, and wash and iron and cook. She's probably a lot 'younger'—"

"Well, she can't be much less than forty!"
Their voices trailed off as they made their way along.

Meantime, Maimie was holding forth with Maimie Gordon.
"I've never seen anything so brazen in all my life," Maimie confessed to Maimie. "I've never asked her if I had thought this was going to happen, honestly. I'm so ashamed I don't know how I'll ever hold up my head again."

"Now, don't worry, Maimie," Maimie comforted her. "We'll all try to help you. After all, it isn't your fault that Adelle's done what she's done. And we'll just try to get her to settle down quietly here. Of course we'll have to have a reception for her, and get her introduced to everybody, and between you and me and the gatepost, Maimie, I think everybody in town's going to be at the reception."

"I do hope so," Maimie ejaculated fervently. "And I want you to help me with the reception, Maimie."

"Of course I will, dear. Now don't you worry any more about it. We'll have our troubles."

The two bade each other a fond farewell, and parted at their separate gates.

CHAPTER V

A small steam engine, trailed by three day coaches, moved caterpillar-like through the wide, repetitious plains that bordered on all sides the train. As fast as the eye could reach stretched gleaming yellow vistas of rippling wheat that moved like broad, driven water, rippling and fretting. The glow of the yellow grain reflected the heat of the July sun and sent up intolerable waves of stuffy, blinding glare. Now and again the yellow was interspersed with the tall stalks of corn, green and gleaming and restful, tossing their yellowish tassels in slow, lugubrious movement.

(To be continued.)

"Look Maimie—"

"Adelle Dayton, Star of 'Powder My Back,' Who Uses Only Silverglow Talcum."

For a moment Maimie swayed. Things turned black and red before her eyes, and she felt quite certain that she was going to faint. She caught hold of Maimie Gordon's arm and tried to steady herself.

"Oh, how terrible! How awful!" she murmured. "And just to think! I've just received word that she is visiting me this summer! The secret was out before she could catch her tongue."

"Oh, Maimie! Not really!" Suddenly the women rallied to her support. "A moment ago they were ready to place the red hot crime on the head of Maimie for having said a sister. But this new interest brought them suddenly to her side. It was the most thrilling news anyone had brought them for weeks—not since Mrs. Simpkins' hired girl had run off with the garage man had they had such news. To think that a woman—most certainly a scarlet woman, to say the least, was going to be in their midst this summer. They recoiled for poor Maimie's hands to reach her and hear all about it."

"Maimie! And you didn't tell me," Maimie Gordon reproached her.

"But I just got the letter—a few days ago," Maimie lied feebly. "But what on earth am I going to do?" she wailed. "Just to think—having a sister like that, and then to have her visit you!"

"You'd think she wouldn't have the nerve to show her face in her home town after showing the rest of herself to the whole world," one of the women exclaimed, turning up her nose.

"But Maimie can't help that, can you, Maimie?" Mrs. Gordon asked solicitously.

"No," Maimie murmured feebly. "But how and why is she coming to visit you?" another woman questioned. "I knew that you hadn't seen each other for a long time, and I had almost forgotten about Adelle—Adelle, she calls herself now, I see."

"Well, I saw a horrid story about her in one of the papers," Maimie interrupted, anxious to remain the center of attention as long as she could. "And so I wrote to her. The story mentioned the theatre where she was playing in New York."

"And then what?" the women questioned eagerly, each anxious to be on her way to spread the glad tidings.

"Well, I told Adelle that I was shocked at her conduct!"

"As I should think any proper person would be," a woman broke in.

"So I told Adelle," Maimie continued quickly, "that I thought it would be a good thing for her to come out here and get some of our pure western air and give up this terrible, vicious life she must be leading!"

"And quite right," interrupted another.

"I—I thought that if Adelle once came out here and lived some regular home life she might not care to go back to the stage," Maimie stated, producing her trump card.

"Now that might be true," Maimie Gordon agreed. "I remember what a sweet little girl Adelle used to be. Perhaps we might interest her to such an extent out here that she would stay. We have the Literary Society, you know, and she might be able to handle the library books—or something like that."

"You know we'd all help you—for your own sake, Maimie," one of the women patted Maimie's hand reassuringly. "Suppose we discuss the matter at the meeting tomorrow, and then we can decide what to do."

"Yes, I think that would be a splendid idea," Maimie agreed hopefully. "We could find out what everyone thinks, and then—"

"Yes, indeed," Maimie Gordon nodded.

"Well, I must be running along home. I have to get something for dinner on the way," one of the women suggested.

"And I have to go, too. We'll see you all tomorrow!"

The four women started down the street, two by two.

"Just think of it!" exclaimed one to another sotto voce, "having that terrible woman on our hands. I do think Maimie might have had some feeling for her own flesh and blood, and you know what the Bible says about blood being thicker than water."

AND THE WORST IS YET TO COME

CAST OF 200 IS USED IN FILM AT THE CALIFORNIA

A company of almost two hundred persons, headed by Gloria Swanson, and Director Raoul Walsh, spent three weeks at Catalina Island and aboard a tramp steamer off the coast of Southern California filming exterior scenes for "Sadie Thompson." Miss Swanson's second independent screen offering under the United Artists banner, which is now showing at the California Theatre.

The wharf sequence of the picture, depicting arrival of "Sadie Thompson" and other characters of W. Somerset Maugham's well known story at Pago Pago, was filmed at Catalina Island. The shore line on either side of the wharf was transformed into a complete tropical setting under the direction of William Cameron Menzies, art director, with the result that swaying coconut palms and native huts caused visiting tourists to rub their eyes in disbelief.

In addition to the tramp steamer "Chaparral," two sailing schooners were chartered by Miss Swanson's company to lend necessary maritime atmosphere to the exterior scenes. Among the extra players taken on location was an entire company of marines, many of whom were actually former members of the service, and a group of Samoan natives headed by a chief whose home is within a few miles of Pago Pago, the locale of the story.

"Sadie Thompson" has been hailed everywhere as the picture that is destined to establish a new peak in Miss Swanson's career. Its story, detailing a terrific battle for supremacy between a social outcast from the byways of San Francisco and Honolulu, and a reformer of almost despotic power in the South Seas, is the most dramatic vehicle the producer star has ever presented.

Other features include "Breezing Along," a Lloyd Hamilton comedy, and current news events.

N. Y. Adopts New Dishwashing Law

NEW YORK, March 28. — The Health Board has amended the sanitary code requiring the sterilization of eating utensils used in restaurants, hotels and all places where food or drink is served, to be first washed in hot water containing soap, soda or a suitable washing powder.

This is to be followed by immersion in boiling water having a temperature of 212 degrees for not less than one minute, or in water that has a temperature of 180 degrees for not less than two minutes, or by sterilizing the dishes by means of live steam.

MAN IS GIVEN CUT IN ALIMONY

MARTINEZ, March 28.—John C. Weirick of Richmond today won modification of a divorce decree eleven years old when Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie granted his plea that custody of the eldest of his two sons, John C. Weirick, Jr., 14, be awarded to him and that his alimony be reduced from $45 to $25 monthly.

The boy, with his brother, William, 12, has been in the custody of his mother in Los Angeles since she obtained a divorce in 1917. The mother has remarried and her name now is Tillie M. Wright.

Recently Weirick told the court John arrived in Richmond and told his father that his mother had put him on a train telling him that he was to make his home with his father. Weirick said he had not been in correspondence with his former wife for some time and did not know of her plan. With the boy in his custody now Weirick desires to keep him.

There are no dull moments in "By Whose Hand?" a detective drama which opened at the Richmond Theatre last night. This picture is packed with grim mystery, excitement and sweeping drama. Whew! Those gripping hands made us shiver and tremble!

The plot is an unusual adaptation of a crime theme so cleverly constructed that our interest was kept at the highest tension from the beginning to the startling climax.

Richardo Cortez's interpretation of the role of the hero is superb, and his acting surpasses anything he has done in previous pictures. Eugene Gilbert makes a charming and pretty heroine.

One of the outstanding characterizations is that given by Lillian Leighton as Mrs. McShane, the generous, kindly and showy widow whose missing jewels are the peg upon which the plot revolves. William Scott scores as the crook who knows how to work in the dark. The remainder of the cast, J. Thornton Baston, Tom Dugan, Edgar Washington Blue, John Stepling and De Sarcia Moore play their parts well. Walter Lang deserves credit for his good direction. By all means see "By Whose Hand?"

Other film features include "A Close Shave," a comedy screen; and current news events.

Drug Store Thief Is Found Guilty

MODESTO, March 28.—A superior court jury deliberated but seven minutes today to find James McFarland guilty of attempted robbery in connection with the holdup of a drug store here last year.

Superior Judge J. C. Needham will pronounce sentence Saturday morning. Harold Rogers, the proprietor, was wounded in the hold-up coming lodged in a nerve center.

Insured buying

There's a way of insuring your buying against wasted money and unsatisfactory merchandise. And that insurance costs you not a penny. It is always paid up to date and in full force.

That insurance is the advertising here in your newspaper. Advertised products are standardized, perfected and carefully priced before they are ever advertised.

Whether you are buying soap, clothing, shoes, toothpaste, food or electrical household appliances, the result is the same. You get reliable, economical merchandise whenever you buy by the advertisements.

Make up your insured shopping list in the comfort and quiet of your own home. Compare the merits of the products advertised. Study the way in which each is adapted to your needs.

You'll find advertising truthful, informing and interesting. That's the only sort that pays, you know.

LEGALITY OF TAX LAW HIT IN RE-TRIAL

Request for a rehearing of the intangible securities tax case was asked of the State Supreme Court yesterday by Dorothy Arnold of Los Angeles, whose suit against the Los Angeles county assessor resulted in the chaos created by decision that not only the law she opposed but the one which preceded it was unconstitutional.

In the application it is contended that the court erred in its interpretation of the constitutional amendment of 1924, under authority of which legislative act of 1925 was placed on the statute.

The Arnold action was brought to contest legality of the 1927 law, which fixed a flat tax of $1.45 per $100 face valuation on all foreign securities and intangible assets, whereas the 1925 law had provided for a 7 per cent valuation basis, leaving the tax rate to be established by assessors of individual counties.

It was the Arnold contention that the 1927 law was invalid because it failed to provide for distribution of money thus raised, ignoring the cities and making the counties the beneficiaries. The motive behind this was to restore in effect the law of 1925.

The Supreme Court ruled both laws unconstitutional, that of 1925 because the legislature, while fixing the 7 per cent valuation, failed to fix an equitable rate of taxation.

In the petition filed yesterday the amendment of 1924 is quoted at length interpreted and the opinion is expressed that "authority for the 1925 statute is to be found in the language above referred to."

N. Y. Man Lives On Few Cents Daily

NEW YORK, March 28.—Andrew B. Uran, the college graduate who failed to bring a bid at "Mr. Zero's" labor auction, revealed today how he is able to live on a few cents a day.

"I eat only raw food," he said. "I believe I can live on less money and more efficiently on that diet." His diet for a day was two apples and twenty prunes soaked in water. The cost was between 10 and 15 cents. For more than a year, Larn said, he had lived on nothing but raw fruits and vegetables.

Russia, China and Japan Struggling For Manchuria May Bring War In The East

(By Universal Service)
CAMBRIDGE, March 28.—"War in the Pacific" was the subject of a recent talk here. He found serious danger in Russian, China and Japan quarreling over Manchuria.

Sir Frederick White is England's outstanding political economist of the Far East, the founder of the magazine "New Europe" and a well-known writer on China.

The late defeat of Germany saved the Pacific from war," said Sir Frederick. "Death to German imperialism meant death to a similar ambitious imperialism which had sprung up in Japan. Japan's imperialism had been growing for 50 years and the world is fortunate that its growth was stopped."

Japan's Problem

"Japan's population problem is a puzzle. Twenty-three years ago Japan set out to acquire territory for its overflowing numbers. It drove back Russia and took possession of Manchuria and founded a Japanese colony there. Japanese population has been constantly growing, yet 1928 finds fewer Japanese moved to Manchuria than in 1905. A traveler in Japan would imagine that natives would have to emigrate. Every bit of land seems to be under intense cultivation. Yet the Japanese now seem to be staying at home."

Sir Frederick said that Japan was flattered by the Western world considering her one of the "great powers," Japan's attitude toward the West was one of complete misunderstanding. He thought that Japan would soon acquire a definite foreign policy. It would be based on economics, for Japan was getting ready to join the big industrial race.

Japan's industrial regime originated with the coming of their new manhood suffrage. Only recently the number of voters was raised from 2,000,000 to 11,000,000. "The real crisis will come in the Pacific after China develops. Japan possesses Manchuria and has its big railroad there. Russia has hundreds of miles of its trans-Siberian railroad in Manchuria. Interests of Russia and Japan in Manchuria are big. Yet Chinese are moving into the region at the rate of 2,000,000 a year. The Chinese are gaining a strong foothold.

NEW SURVEY OF LOCAL HARBOR UPTO CONGRESS

Prompt action by the United States board of engineers at Washington will enable congress to pass on the proposed resurvey of Richmond harbor, it was learned yesterday.

According to Colonel Jackson, United States District engineer at San Francisco, who has been engaged on the resurvey plans, the recommendations are now on the way to Washington, with the possibility they will be laid before congress April 5.

The resurvey seeks federal approval of a channel 32 feet deep and 400 feet in width. At present the government recognizes only a channel 24 feet deep. The 30 foot channel dredged at the expense of the city must be maintained by the city until a new survey is ordered.

CONTRACT LET FOR BUILDING

The Robert McKee construction company of Los Angeles has been awarded the contract for the construction of the new two-story and basement department store building to be erected at Tenth street and Macdonald avenue.

The structure will be T-shaped with Macdonald avenue frontage of 50 feet and a similar frontage on Tenth street to the rear of the Shapiro building.

Sub-contracts will be called for by R. E. Frankenberg, engineer for the construction company who announced yesterday that he will attend the luncheon of the Richmond Builders Exchange to become acquainted with local builders. As many sub-contractors as possible will be awarded to local men, Frankenberg declared.

INSPECTION OF DAMS IS URGED

SACRAMENTO, March 28.—Immediate inspection of all dams in California as a means of safety to life and property was recommended to Governor C. C. Young tonight by Bert B. Meek, state director.

Meek urged that one of the best engineers available in the country be obtained to make a study of the dams of public utility corporations and municipalities and in a fact all dams in California, save the federal structures. Governor Young made no decision on the recommendation tonight, intimating however that he intends to give the matter careful consideration.

Details Of Purchase Bared

could not be learned. From information received it is understood that the Point Richmond Land and Canal company will claim that no legal release of the time limit agreement has been given, and they will ask for the return of the land.

At the time the land was purchased the report was given out that $75,000 was paid for it, but at the present time its value is about four times greater.

From all that can be learned from what seem to be authentic sources it is the intention of the Proctor and Gamble company to start work on a factory on the land in the near future. Only recently it was reported the Southern Pacific made an attempt to secure a right of way over the property, but was informed the land was to be utilized for industrial purposes in a short time.

Proctor and Gamble have also had several opportunities to dispose of the property, but have always refused to put a price on it.

WARD CALLED IN SENATE QUIZ

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The senate probe committee decided today to subpoena Henry Ward, Request for his appearance was made by Senator Wagner, Democrat of New York. Ward is reported to be paying $8 a day to miners in his southern West Virginia operations while nearby open mines are paying $5 or less.

The subpoena may not be sent out for a week or ten days as the committee already has about 50 witnesses on hand. Ward is the fourth millionaire industrial leader to be called. The committee already has heard Charles M. Schwab, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and R. B. Mellon, brother of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

The fair Hungarians are obeying for the moment because they believe this garb is the latest fashion.

TRANS-OCEAN PHONE LINE IS COMPLETED

NEW YORK, March 28.—Transatlantic telephone service between the United States and Paris was inaugurated this morning by President Walter S. Gifford of the American Telephone and Telegraph company speaking from New York to M. Bukonowski, minister of commerce and communications, and General Pershing at Paris. Following these conversations General Carty, vice-president of the American company spoke to M. H. Millon, director of exploitation telephonique, and Colonel Shreve, technical representative of the American company in Europe.

In his conversation with Bukonowski, Gifford recalled the debt of gratitude which the American company owed the French government for its part in making possible the transmission of speech across the Atlantic. He referred to the fact that in 1915, in the midst of the war, France permitted American engineers to set up their apparatus in Eiffel Tower for their experiments in transatlantic telephony as a result of which it was proved that telephoning across the Atlantic was experimentally successful.

In his call to General Pershing, Gifford said: "I do not know whether it is to open a service for talking but I remember that the last time I talked to you in France there were occasions when quick personal contact with the United States would have been useful." General Carty spoke in a similar vein to Millon and Shreve. B. Webb, the engineer whose voice from Arlington, Virginia was heard by Shreve in Paris in 1915, also took part in the ceremonies today.

POOR SHAVES MUST GO! New "VALET" Blade is Changing Shaving Habit of the Nation

For years men have been complaining about poor shaves and poor blade service. The introduction of the new "VALET" blade a short time ago was greeted enthusiastically by men everywhere. It marked the dawn of a new shaving era. The popularity of this outstanding achievement has been without parallel in the history of shaving. Here's a blade that stands up to its task. Made of the finest steel that can be obtained. Handled by expert cutlers from start to finish. Treated and tempered by the secret "Valetite" process—applying all the skill and knowledge—all the experiences with shaving problems extending over a quarter of a century.

This new "VALET" blade can be readily identified. Cut through the blade is the name "VALET". Its outstanding superiority is apparent the first time you shave with it. Even the 15th shave with the same blade provokes enthusiastic comment, for this new blade enables you to obtain more shaves and better shaves than you ever had before. Users of Valet AutoShave Razor who have tried these new blades claim they are even better than our old blades, which were always recognized as the best. Dealers everywhere carrying these new "VALET" blades tell us they have never seen the equal of the demand for these new blades among men coming to their stores.

Before it was a habit—Now it's a pleasure
Men who have used other razors tell us that shaving before was merely a habit—but since they adopted the Valet AutoShave Razor—with the new "Valet" blade—now shaving is a genuine pleasure.

REALTORS OF RICHMOND TO ENTER LEAGUE

Organization of a realtors ball club which will be entered in a proposed city league team to be formed with teams from the bankers, lions and from the announced yesterday by Paul Atkins, of the M. A. Hays company.

Much enthusiasm was evidenced by members of last year's ball club who met yesterday to form preliminary plans for the season. Final plans will be shaped soon when representatives of the four teams will meet to fix a schedule.

O. J. Ripley, old time ball player, was selected as manager of the realtors in appreciation of the good work done by him last season. Frank Settle was named field captain, while J. L. Conlon is treasurer.

Among the players who will support for the realtors are: E. A. Burg, Jack Burg who will handle most of the pitching, H. B. Cox, Jack Craven, J. L. Conlon, E. Crane, Reese Hays, O. J. Ripley, Phil Galpin, Joe Shamer, "Dusty" Miller, Bob Grubb, B. L. Spurr, Frank Settle, J. Brennan and Jack Maxwell.

First practice will be held Saturday afternoon at three o'clock on the Nicholl field grounds. With new material in the lineup the realtors are expected to put a stronger team in the field than last season. The regulars are in better shape than they were last year, and everything points to a successful season.

Games will be played each week the season to be about 16 weeks long.

I. W. W. Leader Stricken In Moscow

MOSCOW, March 28.—Bill Haywood, former Chicago I. W. W. leader, who fled America to escape going to jail, today faces death from diphtheria here.

A week ago Haywood was removed to the Kremlin Hospital suffering from a severe attack of diphtheria.

Physicians attending the former American labor leader today declared his condition was extremely serious and that complete recovery was impossible.

World's Finest Horses Were Small As Cats

CHICAGO, March 28.—The finest horses in the world were as small as cats, according to the Field Museum authorities here.

They are referred to scientifically as "echipids," which means "dwarf horses."

According to the paleontologists, they existed about 55,000,000 years ago.

The cast of the skull of one of the animals, found in the Wyoming bad lands, and a model of the animal itself, are exhibited at the museum.

While the modern horse as we know it, closely resembles the echipids, there were several differences. For one thing, the wee horse of ages ago had four toes.

FAIR OR FOUL JAMES M. KAHN

ORLANDO, Fla., March 22.—Jack Hendricks does not see how the Reds are going to be kept out of the first division. It was all wrong, he argues, that his good burghers finished in the second division last year, and points out that with very few changes he still has the same club that finished a bang-up second to the Cardinals in 1926.

Which may be. However, it strikes this observer that the Reds have just the same team that finished at the top of the second division last year, and that a similar rating for them this year would not be doing an injustice to their ability.

As usual with a staff such as Hendricks is relying on his pitching to keep the Reds up in the race. He is going to curtail his hurling this year, which includes all of his veterans and two youngsters whom he regards with the greatest of enthusiasm. These youngsters, Ken Ash, purchased from the Petersburg Va., club, and Jim Edwards, drafted from Seattle have looked immense in practice.

Both are right handers, and Ash, in addition, is a real hitter, which disturbs Hendricks just a bit. It is possible that he could use him in the outfield, for he needs another capable outfielder, but Ash looks too good as a pitcher. What to do? Ash, it now appears, will stick to pitching.

His veterans have shown a spring form with which he is very much satisfied. Jackie May and Carl Mays have looked particularly good. Eppa Rixey and Adolpho Luque have been working hard and are rounding into nice form, while Ray Kolp, Red Lucas and Jimmy Deekman will supplement what really should be a good pitching staff.

Pete Donohue, at this writing, was still unsigned. Hendricks is counting heavily on him this year and expressed no doubt that he eventually would come to terms with the club.

Donohue is at present working out with the Fort Worth club in his home town, which makes Hendricks feel a bit better about this holdout business. At least when he does report he will be in a condition that at least approaches pitching form.

Yes, the Cincy pitching looks good, but after that the Reds begin to look like a lot of other ball teams. George Kelly at first, Hugh Critz at second, Horace on short, and Sam Dresden at third, will form Cincinnati's regular infield.

Critz should have another big year, such as he had in 1926. He looks and acts as though he were ready to get going right now, but the others do not loom as unusual performers.

Bubbles Hargraves, Val Pincus, Clyde Sukeforth and Ivy Wingo ought to give the Reds good backstopping.

George Kelly has evidently passed his peak as a first baseman. He has not looked like the old George in training, and has been bothered with stomach ailments this spring, probably an aftermath of the appendicitis operation he underwent last May.

Pipp as a substitute first baseman will be carried all year. However, I never saw Wally in uniform, as our former Yankee friend was down with the flu. He is feeling the rigors and discomforts of age, too, and Pipp was a big factor in the success of the 1926 Reds.

The outfield is giving Hendricks a little concern. Eth Allen and Curt Walker are certain to start and should be capable performers. Allen is a first-rate ball player and still improving. The other position, though, is still to be solved, with present preferences leaning in favor of Marty Callaghan, a left-handed thrower and batter purchased from Seattle.

Callaghan hit 360 in 175 games on the Coast last year, and looks like a real hitter in practice. He will probably start with Allen and Walker, with Bill Zimman available for alternating against left handers.

The outstanding fault for the Reds to overcome are their lack of punch, comparable with those possessed by the Pirates, Cardinals, Giants, and Cubs, defensive weakness in the outfield, and a tendency to become defensively erratic in the infield. None of these faults are particularly pronounced, but they are sufficient to distinguish the Reds from a truly dangerous contender.

However, the team spirit is good and the boys will be in there trying. Behind good pitching they ought to be able to offer their full share of opposition and certainly get off to a better start than they did last year.

RICHMOND TO MEET SAN JOSE

Richmond high school baseball club will journey to San Jose today for a contest with the school team of that city. The San Jose club has won five of their last 10 games, being only to the Alameda club, so Coach Barbieri's side are looking forward to a hard contest.

Rains have prevented the locals from engaging in strenuous practice, and they are apt to be slightly out of condition when they angle with the San Jose club.

SEALS DOWN DENVER CLUB

Denver's Bears of the Western League have a wholesome respect for Nick Williams' San Francisco Seals, taking their customary thrubbing at the hands of the Coast league club yesterday by a margin of 12 to 2.

The Seals hard hitting outfield, Johnson, Averill and Jolly, did the big sticking for the transbay club, getting nine of the club's total of 16 hits. Johnson took four, Averill three and Jolly two.

OAKS LOSE TO PIRATES

The Pittsburgh National League ball club beat the Oakland A's at Emeryville yesterday by a score of 10 to 6, getting revenge for the 6 to 5 trouncing sustained Tuesday.

Glen Wright led the attack for the victors, piling out four hits, the Pirates totalling 16, nine of which the Oaks were held to 10 blows.

Today the Oaks will meet the California Bears, coached by Carl Zimnoch.

BEAR AND SEAL HUNTING IN ARCTIC CIRCLE SEEN AS EUROPEAN DIVERSION

LONDON, March 28.—Bear and seal hunting in the Arctic Circle shows signs of becoming a much sought after diversion in Europe. Of recent years whalers and sealers have been in demand at Tromsø for sporting parties, mainly German and Italian, in search of bears, blue foxes and seals in the icy regions of the Circle, and now a properly organized English venture is under way for the coming summer.

J. C. Bee-Mason, who has already accompanied three Arctic expeditions, has bought the Storsaelen, a 300-ton sealer, and is fitting her out for a sporting cruise in the North, taking in Spitzbergen, Lofoten Bay and the Monack glacier.

The ship then proceeds to the Guillemot Range, in the Hinlopen Strait, and round Cape Melin and along the great ice-wall, which extends for over 80 miles. Walrus, seal and polar bear abound here, as well as elder duck and geese. The return journey will be made round South Cape to Bodo, North Norway.

"This Will be a Lesson to Me"

THAT IS PROBABLY what Gene Tunney (on right) is saying to Johnny Farrell, golf professional, as Farrell, winner of La Gorce title (today), tells the heavyweight champion how to cure a slice. Tunney admits that Col. Regie is one bird who occasionally has him on the ropes.

Ed Sullivan's SPORT WHIRL

"GIVE THEM WHAT THEY WANT," TEX'S RECIPE

If you were to attempt to place your finger on the one thing which has made Tex Rickard an outstanding success as a promoter, you would have to locate and identify his willingness at all times to stage the fights the fans want.

Regardless of the equality of the contestants, if the fans want to see them matched, Rickard will put it on and make a profit.

Rickard was selling coal lands in the Far West when he was persuaded to stage the Johnson-Jeffries fight at Reno, Nev. "Wherever I went they were talking about a Jeffries-Johnson fight," recalls Tex. "Every train I rode on seemed to be full of people interested in such a scrap. I knew then that it couldn't miss being a success, so I went after it."

The results of the fight-fan poll conducted to determine the next opponent for Gene Tunney tell why Rickard was anxious to match Dempsey for a third fight with Tunney. The fans want Dempsey and nobody else. Sentiment may color their choice and logic may sneer at it, but the fans want Dempsey to take a third shot at the crown.

It can be assumed that Tex Rickard's heart just about was torn to pieces when Dempsey notified him that he would not be available for another fight.

I was with Rickard in Miami, Fla., when Dempsey's wire reached him.

"It looks as though Dempsey will never fight again," said Rickard as he passed over the wire. "I hope he doesn't stick to that intention for he was the greatest drawing card I ever had. The fans always wanted to see him fight."

P. T. BARNUM NEVER PULLED THAT LINE

Legend has it that P. T. Barnum, original ballyhoo man of the circus, said: "There's a sucker born every minute and two to take him."

You can go and bet on it that Barnum never made that crack. If he thought of his customers in terms of "suckers," Barnum would never have been a success, and he would never have earned enough dough to buy the beautiful park which he gave to the city of Bridgeport, Conn.

No successful man, whether he be engaged in real estate, restaurant, newspaper, or many other trade or profession, has ever patronized his customers or figured them as "suckers." And Barnum, ever intent on creating new lures for the crowds, certainly proved in his career that the crowds were his barometer rather than his saps.

I know that Tex Rickard has a high opinion of the public pulse. The only match he ever put on which was not demanded by the crowd was the Dempsey-Willard scrap at Toledo, O.

Rickard put the fight on simply to see if he could stir up some action in the heavyweight class. The fans weren't interested in it and Rickard lost money.

"I felt sorry for Dempsey when I got a good look at that big Willard," says Tex. Even a Rickard can't pick winners. WHY FRANK MORAN FOUGHT WILLARD

The Johnson-Jeffries match was the first heavyweight fight ever staged by Rickard, and I have told how public sentiment influenced him to drop his coal land business and bid for the fight.

If you are looking for other instances which bear out this thought, take the second fight between Jim Coffey, Billy Gibson's Irish giant, and Frank Moran of "Mary Ann" fame.

It is Rickard speaking again: "On the way out of the old Garden, that night," remembers Tex, "I heard every one talking about Moran. 'What a punch he has, they were saying. 'He is the fellow to beat Jess Willard.' I wandered around the lobby and all of them had been convinced that Moran, despite his size, could beat the giant Willard."

Two nights later, Rickard was busily engaged in arranging a Willard-Moran fight. Rickard didn't think that Moran had a chance despite his two knockouts of the glass-jawed Coffey, but he wasn't interested in that. He was interested in the fact that the fans wanted the match.

He put it on. The fight itself was a flop but Rickard made money.

I was the same with the Carpenter-Dempsey fight. Every paper in the country panned the fight as one-sided. Rickard went right ahead with it because the fans wanted it. He made a fortune out of that fight, although Dempsey could have ended it in the first round.

TEX ALMOST COST DEMPSEY HIS TITLE

It was in the Carpenter-Dempsey fight that Rickard admits he asked Dempsey to take it easy.

"I'll be frank about it," says Tex. "I thought Dempsey was a cinch to win. We had the greatest crowd we ever had had at a scrap and I wanted to give the crowd a run for its money. I went into Dempsey's dressing room before the fight and Kearns was sitting there with Jack.

"Don't knock him out right away, I told Dempsey. 'Carry him along for a few rounds so the crowd will not be disappointed.' That was the only time Rickard ever asked Dempsey to lay off the pace. It nearly cost Dempsey his title that day.

Dempsey was loafing along, deliberately refraining from punching at Carpi's jaw and punching instead at his stomach. That was a slower way to register a knockout. Carpenter must have realized that Dempsey was babying him. He swung a right hand punch from the floor and almost tore off Dempsey's head with it.

SPORTSMEN FIGHT FOR DUCK FARM

Establishment of a western duck reserve appeared certain today with the report of the secretary of the Richmond Sportsmen's club last night that various senators and representatives had indicated their willingness to support the measure.

The local Sportsmen's meeting in Brotherhood hall last night heard a talk by J. Sande in charge of predatory animal control at the state, who lauded the work of the county trapper, L. Shock. The latter was appointed on a committee to arrange for a rat hunt, which may develop into a contest between the local and El Corrito clubs.

President Kelly of the El Cerrito trap-shooting club invited the Richmond sportsmen to a blue rock shoot April 15. "It was stated that the local organization may organize a trap club later.

Two new members, E. E. Gidson and E. Faust were taken in by the club.

Motor Dealer Gets Shipment Of New Cars

Three carloads of Oakland and Pontiac cars have been received here this week by J. P. Strom, distributor in Richmond and Contra Costa county for the cars, making a total of six carloads delivered since the first of March.

Strom declared yesterday that four more carloads of the cars are now enroute to this city from the factory at Pontiac, Michigan.

"While this large number of cars in such a short period of time may appear large," declared Strom, "it is necessary that I buy in large quantities. There is no coast distributor of Oakland and Pontiacs. I have to get all cars direct from the factory.

"This of course requires a larger investment, but it gives facilities for quick delivery which I could get in no other way. A number of these cars are already sold."

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drug or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every girl has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

property of Van Damme, as Long had made an offer of a million and a quarter dollars for it. The court further stated engineers of Long had stated they would be able to finance the bridge, providing they were able to take all of the present ferry traffic.

Judge McKenzie also stated that after the location and the type of the bridge had been determined if Van Damme did not desire to build it, the supervisors would have the right to grant it to some other person.

It is understood that attorneys for Van Damme will immediately take steps to prevent Long from taking any further steps in connection with the building of a bridge.

It will be remembered that Roy O. Long, real estate man of Berkeley, and Van Damme, both applied to the supervisors for a franchise to build a bridge from Richmond to the Marin county shore.

Long's route would leave Pt. San Pablo on the side and end near Pt. San Pedro on the Marin shore. Van Damme who has been operating the Richmond San Rafael ferry for years, and who owns the land on both sides of the bay, desired to build a bridge that would cover the same route as the ferry.

After many contingencies, and the taking of testimony, the supervisors decided they would grant the franchise. As the question of whether the state engineer should issue a permit and certify the plans is not decided, the actual granting of the Long franchise has not taken place.

Harry A. Jacobs and M. R. Jones of San Francisco, were attorneys for Van Damme, and the supervisors were represented by District Attorney Tinsley and a team of J. E. Rodgers and A. P. Bray.

How Death is Dealt From the Air

SLEEPING CITIES ARE EASY PREY for the modern bombing airplane, replete with its virtually automatic and precise bomb sights. Nevertheless the airman himself is not immune from death from their own bombs, as is revealed in the Macdonald, Georgia, tragedy. Our picture shows how a modern bomber carries its "eggs," and (right) the method of cable release. When the cable is pulled the bomb is released from the rack, and coming in contact with the rushing wind the wind vane (shown left) is set in motion. This releases the striker, which falls on the detonator, exploding the fulminate of mercury, in turn exploding the bomb. It is possible that in the Macdonald tragedy the bomb was not properly released, but hung sufficiently long for the wind to act on the wind-vane, as explained above.

Plane For Coast Passes The Test

One of the big airships which will be used in the Los Angeles to San Francisco passenger service of the Western Air Express, was given a test flight at the Fokker plant at Hasbrouck Heights, New Jersey, yesterday. The plane made a speed of 120 miles an hour, according to word received here.

The big monoplane will be one of five available in the service according to Harry M. Hanchette, president of the Western Air Express. A feature is that there will be an absence of noise or vibration in the passenger cabin which accommodates fifteen persons.

The service will begin May 1 and the 360 miles airline distance will be covered in three hours, thus providing one of the fastest services in the world. The planes will leave each terminal at 10:30 a. m. daily and lunch will be served aboard. Each plane will carry two pilots.

Builders To Hold Banquet

used the less wear and tear on shoes. Shoe manufacturers and merchants are complaining that shoes are not wearing out in such large numbers and so quickly as formerly. Of course the buyers of this longer-wearing footwear are making no such complaint.

It is estimated that many families in Richmond will have changed their habits when the moving season is ended. This is a sufficient volume of shifting of residence to have an appreciable effect on the community.

Moving is expensive. There is a saying that three moves are equal to a fire. That is, in changing residence three times one loses as much as one would lose in a fire. Yet by no means are all changes unprofitable. Some move from rented quarters into homes they have bought. That is advantageous. Others move from old houses into better ones. That denotes prosperity. Of course moving is dictated by a great variety of reasons.

It has been rather well established that laws which arbitrarily fix speed limits for automobiles are little protection against accidents. The speed at which one may safely drive depends upon the road and traffic conditions involved.

Sense, not speed, is the important factor in determining whether a driver is safe or unsafe.

For a good while it has been the fashion among certain writers and speakers to condemn young people of the present, charging them with being wild, frivolous, immoral and what not. The escapades of the small minority have been held up as representing the tendencies of the entire body of modern youth.

Many thoughtful persons who are in position to observe real conditions do not take this view, however, but incline to the belief that the younger generation will compare favorably with those of "the good old days."

FUTURE VOTERS ARRIVE
Certificates on file in the office of the health department report the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Hall Woodworth, 150 Severn street, March 21, and a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Zetserquist, 657 Fifth street, March 23.

Huge Shark Is Caught Off New Zealand Coast

(By Universal Service)

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, March 28.—Lord Grimthorpe has joined the ranks of world record breakers with the landing of the largest mako shark yet caught. The shark weighs 630 pounds, and measures ten feet, eight inches, five feet, six and one half inches in girth, and three feet, four inches across the tail.

The record previously was held by a Briton, F. B. Lewis, whose shark weighed thirty-five pounds less than that landed by Lord Grimthorpe.

One of the features of the mako is that it is the fastest of all fish. It is said to be able to kill its prey in an hour and a half. Some of the New Zealand game fish fight for many hours after being hooked.

Tragedy was nearly averted in the contest between fisherman and fish when the shark turned his foot completely around, and once nearly upset it.

Film Beauty In Auto Accident

HOLLYWOOD, March 28.—Her face probably scared for life, Thelma Parr, 21-year-old film bathing beauty, was lying seriously injured at the Hollywood Hospital today after having been hurled through a windshield in an automobile collision.

The actress recently was declared by Finn Haskon Frolich, noted sculptor, to be "the perfect type of American beauty."

Savings Effected By State Printer
SACRAMENTO, March 28.—A saving of more than 100 per cent over private publishers' prices was effected in publication of the State printing plant of 291,356 free elementary school text books during the last three months. The net cost of the books was $71,979, and the cost f. o. b. pupils was $115,937, as compared to the publishers' cost of $232,362, f. o. b. San Francisco. This is a saving of $117,324 or more than 100 per cent.

MEMBERS OF MOOSE LODGE PLAN CONFAB

Over 600,000 members of the Loyal Order of Moose are making every effort to fulfill the expectations of James J. Davis, D. Rector General of the Order of Washington, D. C., to make the Loyal Order of Moose at Cardiff, Wales, July 30th to August 1st, next, the greatest fraternal demonstration in the history of the benevolent society.

According to Ed. Forwick, secretary of the Richmond order, there are 1,700 lodge members of the order in the United States, with a total membership of over 600,000. Naturally, we all wish to know our brothers across the seas just what America can do when a call is sent out to show our strength and loyalty, consequently one readily sees that the prayer of our Director General will be answered by each and every member who is now working to make this event the greatest ever attempted in the history of fraternal organizations.

To assure our members that every comfort is to be accorded them during this 100 per cent American trip the political line George Washington of the United States Lines has been engaged to carry them across the Atlantic ocean. The date of departure is July 21st from Hoboken, N. J.

Deeds Reveal Owner Of New Fur Factory

Deeds filed in the transfer of the Rust-Campbell factory building, revealed that the new owner is Ambrose D. Fish, Oakland, who will operate a fur factory employing 70 persons.

The structure is located in San Pablo avenue, north of the city limits of Richmond.

Fish is said to be an experienced fur garment manufacturer with enough capital to successfully promote the new concern.

British Halt North Burmah Slave Traffic

ALLAHABAD, March 28.—Slave trafficking in "The Triangle" in North Burmah, has finally been abolished by the British.

All the slaves in the area where, owing to the punitive operations against the Lephal tribe the work was not finished last year, have now been released. The first expedition which the British Government sent to the Hukawng Valley in 1926 was ambushed by natives, and the leader, Captain G. M. West, and two of his followers were killed. The work was thus interrupted, but has now been completed by a third expedition.

The third expedition is enquiring into a condition of the slaves released last year. It has met with a most friendly reception from the natives, and no further trouble is anticipated.

Last Rites For San Pabloan

Services were held in St. Paul's church San Pablo yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock for Mrs. Mary Castagnasso, 36 of Chesed avenue, San Pablo, who passed away at a local hospital. Interment was in St. Joseph's cemetery under the direction of the Bert Curry parlors.

Surviving the deceased are her husband, Frank Castagnasso, two sons and two daughters. She was the sister of Joe Marsilio of Concord, Mrs. Castagnasso was a native of Italy and had been a resident of California the past 18 years.

Union Revival Services Draw Large Audience

The union revival services last night in the First Baptist church were filled to overflowing. It was Grace Lutheran church and Salvation Army night, and members of both denominations crowded into the church.

Rev. S. T. Himes, pastor of Grace Lutheran church, delivered the sermon and Capt. J. Ellison of the Salvation Army was master of ceremonies. Rev. Aldis Webb, pastor of the First Christian church read the scripture reading. Special music was provided by a mixed quartet from the First Christian church and composed of Miss Belle Woodford, Miss H. Moorehouse, Henry Clark and Walter Moore.

The sermon topic was "The Sin of Rejecting Christ," and Rev. Himes took as his text, Hebrews 12:25 "Refrain not him who hearketh."

Transbay Club Visits Kiwanis

A large delegation of San Francisco Kiwanians were guests of the Richmond organization yesterday noon, with Frank Beckman, formerly of the local Kiwanis, as chairman of the day.

The visitors staged a program of entertainment.

The principal speaker was Eugene McCann, personnel department of the P. O. & E.

An amusing monologue was provided by Miss Maybelle Blair, San Francisco, while Emile Cardinell of the transbay club gave several vocal solos.

Dragnet Is Set For Bookkeeper

Accused of embezzling $1,600 from funds of the State School for the Deaf and Blind at Berkeley, John R. Snyder, bookkeeper, was being sought by police throughout California yesterday.

Snyder, according to officials of the school, disappeared on March 14, shortly after auditors began checking his accounts. Before departing, it is said, he took $200 from a cash drawer.

Bruce Bartholomew, business manager of the institution, said that Snyder's alleged pecuniations began two months after he was appointed bookkeeper a year ago. The missing man's wife, Helen, living at 71 Portal avenue, San Francisco, declared she had not seen Snyder since March 3.

She told Inspector Charles Becker of Berkeley that Snyder was twice before implicated in shortages, but escaped prosecution when members of his family made up the discrepancies.

WIFE SLAYER AIDS SEARCH FOR VICTIM

night he placed it in his automobile and drove away into the darkness. Through it all his two little boys lay asleep unaware.

Twenty-two miles he carried the body, to Garquinez bridge at Crockett. He drove out onto the bridge and lifted the body from the machine. Staggering to the rail, he heaved the body into the black waters of the bay. Then he went back to the house of death and went to sleep.

Less than a week later he married the younger girl, Ida Stovall, 18, of Campo Seco, Calaveras county.

This was the story revealed last night following long hours of questioning by the Oakland police.

Antoine is 35 years old. He owns his home at 3934 Brown avenue, Oakland. He was arrested on Monday on a bigamy charge preferred by Floyd Stovall, brother of the girl he married on January 20 last. After hours of questioning in which the police were actuated by the "hunch" of Police Inspector Vernon Coley—Antoine's nerve suddenly snapped. Then the whole story of the playing poured from his lips.

It was a story of the bloddy life of a workman and his wife. Good times and bad. Happiness for a while. Then weariness of his wife and the mother of his children when a younger woman showed interest in him.
